

I stumbled across this App in a review, and from the website, thought that it looked promising. For a low-price of $4.99 in the App Store, this program allows you to create landscapes and render them out in multiple passes.

Right now, I am still taking the app through its paces, and on my lil' Modbook the renders are not all that fast. what I do like is how easy it is to use; th interface is very clean and clear, though for $5 you don't get a whole lot of bells and whistles. But without much work you can get a working image; in my case, with the image below, I then sent the 640x480 image to my iPad and continued to paint over it with Sketchbook Pro.
